4 newest programs at Al Ain University compatible with the Job Market

Al Ain University offers 4 new programs compatible with the job market; Bachelor of Science in Nutrition and Dietetics, Bachelor in Arabic Language and Literature, Bachelor in Islamic Studies and Master of Science in Pharmaceutical Sciences to start from the beginning of the first semester of the new academic year 2020-2021.

Prof. Ghaleb El Refae, AAU President, said that offering new programs came after an integrated process to ensure their importance in the job market and fulfilling all requirements of the Ministry of Education in the UAE. He added, offering these programs aims to keep updated with the education sector and develop national competencies, in line with the university's strategy to prepare students who are qualified and committed to develop themselves in a continuous manner that responds to the developments of the labor market.

Dr. Khairi Mustafa, Dean of the College of Pharmacy, said that the College of Pharmacy is offering now 4 programs; Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy, Bachelor of Science in Nutrition and Dietetics, Master of Science in Clinical Pharmacy, and the Master of Pharmaceutical Sciences. He added, all the programs meet the high quality standards in education.

For his part, Dr. Imad Al-Ghazw, Acting Dean of the College of Education, Humanities and Social Sciences pointed out that the new programs aim to improve the educational process in addition to spreading deep knowledge, developing scientific competencies and graduating qualified teaching cadres.

It is worth to mention that, Al Ain University is offering various Bachelor's and Master's programs through its six colleges; College of Engineering, College of Pharmacy, College of Law, College of Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, College of Business, and the College of Communication & Media.
